

WFC REVIEW

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1981

WELCOME!

It is a real pleasure to have you here to be part of the unique community which has grown up around WFC week. Over the years almost 500 different players have taken part. We on the staff sincerely hope you will have a truly memorable experience.

We have, over the past year, labored for many hours to create the best possible situation for this event. Specifically, we have tried to improve on the weaker aspects of past WFC's. We believe that the result is the best arrangements ever provided. However, only your cooperation, enthusiasm, assistance and participation will bring this unique experience to life. This is going to be fun - enjoy it.

Tonight at 9:00 in Prado:

COPING WITH COMPETITION - A presentation by, and discussion facilitated by, Daryl Wlliott, a 3-time WFC competitor, who has since stopped competing and has researched and written about competition. The analysis presented and discussion will touch upon: personal goals; ego-involvement; stress management; psycho-emotional dynamics; and inter-personal communication and relations, as they apply to competition.

The Annual Tout Sheet

In the now nearly great tradition of the WFC Review, below are the best efforts of our staff to provide useful information on the various races soon to begin. While no guarantee can be given it is useful to note that last year's sheet:

- named the DDC finalists
- picked Joseph for Distance
- predicted two of the womens titlists correctly
and
- picked Scott to win it all

However, we also:

- completely missed John Greensage in SCF (we went with Monroe)
- totally underestimated Jeff Watson in Golf and Overall
- failed to mention Cyndi Birch at all (she won)

Soooo.....with that in mind we now offer our best guesstimates on who will win each individual event and the Overall in each division. Each prediction has three categories: Projected Winner, Good Bets, and Dark Horses. Good bets have good prospects for winning it all. Dark Horses are lesserknown contenders who with the right breaks could sneak in for the win.

We considered a fourth category: Most Likely to be Offended by Not Being Mentioned. More than likely, if we did not mention you, either we felt you were not quite a good bet and too well known to be a dark horse, or you were too dark a dark horse. We trust you understand.

OPEN DIVISION

DISTANCE

Winner: Youngman
Good Bets: Kirkland, Miller, Dunipace
Dark Horses: H. Duvall, Zimmerman, McHugh, Bonopane

SELF-CAUGHT FLIGHT

Winner: Aimmerman
Good Bets: Youngman, Kirkland
Dark Horses: Jewell, Monroe

DOUBLE DISC COURT

Winner: Bonopane/H. Duvall
Good Bets: Zimmerman/C. Duvall, Loftus/Sheldon
Dark Horses: Horn/Geare, McInnis/Greensage

GOLF

Winner: Watson
Good Bets: Pierson, Zimmerman, Jansson
Dark Horses: Morris, Kirkland, Jewell

FREESTYLE

Winner: Coloradicals
Good Bets: Smits/Hudoklin/Jewell, Elliott/Rhodes/
Felberbaum
Dark Horses: Velasquez/Velasquez/Kirkland

OVERALL

Winner: Kirkland*
Good Bets: Zimmerman
Dark Horses: Loftus, Greensage, Krajna

*The hardest race to call in history. Certainly the two best prepared players ever. Too close to call in the individual events but John has more of an edge in Freestyle than Scott has in DDC.

WOMEN'S DIVISION

DISTANCE

Winner: Horowitz
Good Bet: Loftus

SELF-CAUGHT FLIGHT

Winner: Allen
Good Bet: Horowitz

DOUBLE DISC COURT

Winner: Loftus/Margulies
Good Bet: Birch/Kirkland

GOLF

Winner: Loftus
Good Bet: Horowitz

FREESTYLE

Winner: Englehardt/Strait
Good Bet: rose/?

OVERALL

Winner: Loftus
Good Bet: Horowitz

If by any chance you are unhappy with the above, please direct your mail to Tom Wright in Colorado. He came up with the idea for the 1978 Review. On the other hand if you like our predictions we'll be glad to accept your praise for continuing this great idea.

THE RETURN OF THE DAILY DONUT

The Daily Donut column is to the WFC Review as They Said It is to Sports Illustrated. It's for pithy sayings, amusing anecdotes, the little events that give the WFC its color and warmth. These Donuts are meant to be munched. They may or may not have a lot of substance, but we hope you enjoy them on their way down.

We are in constant need of new material. Feel free to contribute. Either write down your story or line, or corner Mark Danna at meals or on the field. He will be the one with the little notepad and pen.

For this first issue, we are reprinting some of the best Daily Donuts from the 1980 WFC Review. We chuckled again rereading them. So if Carson can get away with reruns, so can we. Without further ado...

Overheard at the golf competitors' meeting -

Competitor: "Can you put both feet on either side of the disc and straddle putt?"

Stork: "Only if a part of your anatomy is touching your lie."

Every year someone loses a food tray in the meal hall. This year's bumpee was Craig Hunter. What was ironic was that good guy Paul Thompson was helping pick the food off the floor while wearing a T-shirt that read "End World Hunger."

Overheard at practice:

Ron Widel: "Hey, Palmeri, how about a 6-pack bet on distance?"

Jim Palmeri: (Short pause) "Why the hell not?"

(Note that in the past this has also been Palmeri's response to disastrous ventures that began: "How about starting a Flying Disc and Chess Shop!" and "Let's get married.")

Message to a player from a meal ticket-taker at the lunch hall:

"There's a guy with a Frisbee looking for you."

Michael Conger calls TR&C "Diving for Dollars."

"I am totally committed to the metric system in disc sports, and I refuse to budge an inch." -- Dan Roddick

Nudging DDC players who complain too much, Scott Zimmerman, after throwing a burn shot 15 meters past the end line, deadpanned, "Geez, on any other court in the world that would have stayed in."

Switching to golf. On hole 3 Craig Hunter put a disc up in a tree. soon someone said, "Here it is!" Sure enough. It said "Craig Hunter." There was just one problem. It was the disc he had lost the day before.

Freestyle entrant: "How come you didn't list me as a top seed?"

Jim Palmeri: "You are a top seed. Except now we have super seeds!"

COLLECTRIVIA CONTEST #1

Webster's 3rd defines "trivia" as "unimportant matters: trifles." O.K. Sure we could live without trivia, but life would be a lot duller. So to brighten up your day, we once again offer you a chance to brush up on your disc history with the opportunity to win yourself some amazing specially-imprinted WFC collectors' discs! One prize will be awarded per day to the person who nets the highest score. All entries must be in Mark Danna's hands by dinnertime. As they say in the lottery biz, "You can't win if you don't enter."

If you see a question on DDC, feel free to ask top DDCers about it. A question on Joe Youngman? Talk to him! Want to know how nice the prizes are? See Michael Conger or Craig Hunter - they won last year.

This contest is worth 100 points. Points per question part are noted.

Question 1: 10 Points The nail delay, as any freestyler worth his slick can tell you, is essential - it has always existed in some younger players' consciousnesses. But there was a pre-nail delay era! And not that long ago. Strange but true.

- For 4 points: A. Who is credited with inventing the delay?
- 3 points: B. At which WFC was it introduced?
- 3 points: C. What title resulted?

Question 2: 15 points In Open WFC Double Disc Court, who has:

- For 5 points: A. Played in all 3 championship games?
- 5 " : B. Won two world titles?
- 5 " : C. Placed 1st, 2nd, and 3rd?

Question 3: 15 points Teenagers have dominated the Open Overall Championship since the multi-event format began in 1976. In fact, no person in his 20's has won the overall title in that time!

- For 1 point each : A. Name each year's winner (1976-1980)
- For 2 pts. each : B. Give his age when he won the title.

HINT: The combined total of the ages is 101 years.

Question 4: 10 points How many North American Series meets have ever been held?

(5 points will be awarded for a number within 3 of the actual total)

Question 5: 14 points "I wish they all could be California girls." Remember that song of the 60's? Well, the Beach Boys got their wish: sort of. Every Women's Overall Champion has resided in California.

Score two points for naming each champion/year she won.

Question 6: 12 points Only 3 teams from 2 states have won the United States National Ultimate Championship.

- For 3 points each: A. What are the states?
- For 2 points each: B. What are the teams?

Question 7: 10 points In golf, a little luck can go a long way. Two World Golf Champs in the past 5 years have had their share. One eventual winner landed his first putt on top of the Pole Hole - that year, on top counted as being in. Another winner's disc was stopped from sliding out of bounds by the marker disc of someone who had slid out of bounds.

For 5 points each, name these two Golf Champions.

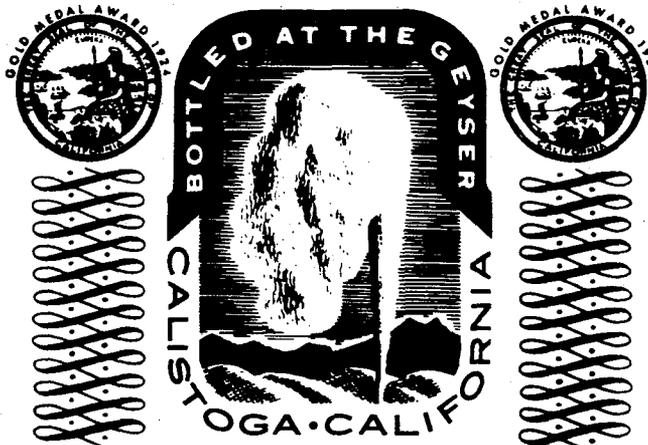

Question 8: 14 points Joseph Youngman has been awesome in Distance, winning the WFC event 3 of the past 4 years and finishing 2nd once. He has been nearly as impressive in another WFC event for each of the past 5 years.

For 4 points: A. Name the event.

For 2 pts. each: B. Give his finish for each year, 1976-80.
