

1982 Mazda GLC. Just one look and you'll see its outstanding value versus VW Rabbit.

The Mazda GLC and the VW Rabbit are similar in many ways. But it doesn't take long to realize that there's an important difference between these two outstanding economy cars.

The GLC is an outstanding value.

It's also an outstanding piece of engineering. When Mazda engineers first designed the GLC, they were free to analyze existing front-wheel-drive technology. And they were free to improve it in virtually every area, including fuel economy.

44 34 The result is a car with handling, quickness, and comfort that come as a pleasant surprise to those accustomed to driving other front-wheel-drive automobiles. In plainest terms, it is an economy car that is fun to drive.

The more you look at the finest economy cars in the world, the more you like the Mazda GLC.

STATE-OF-THE-ART FRONT-WHEEL DRIVE.

In designing the GLC, our engineers dealt with a problem encountered in many front-wheel-drive cars: rubbery and imprecise gear shifting. This is due to the long shift linkage required to connect the gearshift lever with the forward-mounted transmission.

Our solution was a unique parallel linkage in which the linkage rod is stabilized by a second rod. This design makes shifting gears a series of sure, crisp throws.

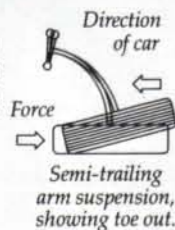

Mazda's unique parallel linkage.

PATENTED REAR SUSPENSION AIDS HANDLING.

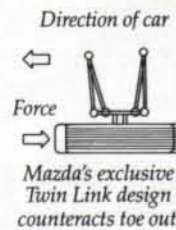

Mazda engineers designed a patented Twin Link rear-suspension system that counteracts toe out when the wheels go over a bump. Mazda's unique Twin Link geometry allows the GLC's rear wheels to remain in a neutral position to help hold the car on track.

Semi-trailing arm suspension, showing toe out.

EXCELLENT RESALE VALUE.

For resale value, the GLC ranks high among cars in its class. For example, the 1979 GLC 3-Door Hatchback has retained a startling 94.6% of its original retail price, according to the Kelley Blue Book, Sept.-Oct. 1981.

Mazda's exclusive Twin Link design counteracts toe out.

GLC CUSTOM COMES EXTREMELY WELL EQUIPPED.

- 1.5 litre overhead cam 4-cylinder engine
- Rack-and-pinion steering
- Power front disc brakes
- 4-wheel independent suspension
- Whitewall steel-belted radials
- Split fold-down rear seat backs

Dear Frisbee® disc Enthusiast:

Welcome to the Ninth Annual World Frisbee® disc Championships. We hope that you enjoy watching and learning about disc sports as much as all of us at Wham-O enjoy bringing them to you.

For the past eight years the World Frisbee® disc Championships have been held at the world famous Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California. For the first time in the history of this event we are moving to the east coast in order to share this exciting new sport with, hopefully, many that all of you will become active participants in this marvelous multifaceted sport.

Disc sports are growing. In fact it is considered by many as the fastest growing sport in America today. Recent Gallup and Harris polls place disc sports as the 7th most popular participatory activity. This positions disc sports ahead of such well known leisure activities as softball, tennis, football, baseball, golf, racquetball, and skiing as a participating sport. Won't you please join us and discover why we say, "When a ball dreams, it dreams it's a Frisbee® disc."

We would like to express our gratitude to the sponsors for their foresight, support, and assistance. Also, our sincere thanks to you, the spectators, the players, the International Frisbee® disc Association, the officials, and Rutgers University.

Sincerely,

Robert P. Gardner

1982 WORLD FRISBEE® disc
CHAMPIONSHIPS

WHAM-O

July 24, 1982 Rutgers Stadium
New Brunswick, New Jersey

The competitors in this 9th Annual Mazda World Frisbee® disc Championships have been invited on the basis of their performance in national competitions. In the United States, three events were held...in Sacramento, CA, Manassas, VA and St. Louis, MO...to enable men and women to qualify for invitations to be members of the U.S. team. Other competing countries used similar methods to select their representatives.

Disc sports represent a unique area of modern athletics, and the Mazda World Frisbee® disc Championships represent not only the highest level of competition, but a celebration of the special joys attendant in disc sports.

All of the competitors have devoted many hours to discovering the amazing potential of the disc and refining and enhancing their individual performance.

We hope their performances will entertain you and add to your enjoyment of play with the Frisbee® disc.

EVENTS

Discathon

A race in which players must run and throw discs around a circuitous 1(one) kilometer course. The course uses natural objects to define the mandatory route which the disc must travel. Good race strategy involves accurate throwing which reduces tie length of the run. A wide range of throwing skills are required including precise curve control, strong distance and great accuracy. The running component demands speed, endurance and agility. Additionally, a carefully planned race strategy is necessary for attainment of low times.

Disc Golf

One of the most exciting developments in play is the public acceptance of Disc Golf. Many club and municipal courses have been experiencing very heavy usage. Play is analagous to ball golf except that fairways are shorter and much more restricted. Holes are completed by either striking objects on informal courses or hitting Disc Pole Holes on standardized courses.

Distance

More powerful players, better technique and improved discs have pressed the distance barriers will past the length of a football field. Both the backhand and the sidearm are popular deliveries for this power event.

Double Disc Court

A doubles game in which a pair defends a 12 x 12 meter court. The courts are separated by a 15 meter neutral area. Each point begins with one player on each team throwing the disc to the opponent's court. Scoring occurs when a team drops a disc, has a disc land in their court or holds both discs. Good shot variety and placement are the keys to competitive success. The 110G[®] model is used.

Freestyle

Freestyle is the "hotdog" aspect of Frisbee[®] disc play. Based on the throw and catch fun of the beach and backyard, freestyle has become an extremely challenging and beautiful aspect of competitive play. Judging is done by other active players and considers difficulty, execution, variety and presentation.

Guts

Two teams of five players face each other across a 14 meter neutral zone. The disc is thrown at great velocity across this zone with points being scored for wild throws or missed catches. All throws must be caught cleanly in one hand. The Professional[®] model is used for Guts.

Self-Caught Flight

Maximum Time Aloft: MTA is one of the most demanding of all flying disc disciplines. Good performances require strength, control and an extensive knowledge of the nature of disc flight. Players throw a "boomerang" flight into the air and catch the return flight cleanly in one hand. Time is measured from release until first contact in the catching attempt.

Throw, Run & Catch: TR&C holds all the challenges of MTA plus requiring that the player be a swift runner. Players throw a "boomerang" flight into the air and catch the return flight cleanly in one hand. Distance is measured from point of throw to point of first contact in catching attempt.

Self-Caught Flight points are determined by evaluating the player's performance in both MTA and TR&C.

Ultimate

A field game played with seven players on each team, Ultimate has become extremely popular with club, high school and college teams. The disc is moved from player to player by passing and goals are scored by throwing to a team member in the end zone. The 165G[®] model is used for Ultimate play.

Sponsorship Of Events

Over the years, as disc sports have grown in popularity and the World Frisbee® disc Championships has taken its place as a major sports competition, the event has attracted sponsorship participation by some of the nation's leading firms.

This marks the second year, for example, that Mazda is the sponsor, showing that company's recognition of the popularity of disc sports among the young adult population. Participation by a firm such as Mazda not only lends stature to the event, but also reflects the growing awareness of the business community of the reality of disc sports competition as a real force in the marketplace.

Over the years, of course, the major financial brunt of the WFC has been borne by Wham-O Mfg. Co. As the world's leading marketer of plastic discs, Wham-O has long recognized its obligation to support disc sports at all levels. The result is that Wham-O has provided funding of more than $1.5 million to the WFC alone, since its inception, while supporting disc sports activities across the nation to the tune of more than $6.5 million during that same period.

The evolution of disc sports did not just happen. It resulted from Wham-O's faith, backed up by its money, which in turn showed other firms, such as this year's sponsor of the WFC, Mazda, as well as the sponsor of the 1982 World Junior Frisbee® disc Contest, Wheaties, the values of this exciting new aspect of athletic competition.

WHEATIES® 1982 WORLD JR. FRISBEE® disc CONTEST™

Many of the contestants who are competing in today's WFC got their start in disc sports in the World Junior Frisbee® disc Contest, sponsored this year by Wheaties®, Breakfast of Champions.

As a matter of fact, two former Men's World Champions...Peter Bloeme in 1976 and Krae Van Sickle in 1978...as well as two-time (1976-1977) Women's World Champion Monika Lou, came out of the ranks of the Juniors.

The World Junior Frisbee® disc Contest began in 1969 and has grown to a point where several hundred thousand boys and girls, age 15 and under, take part each year through community park and recreation departments. Contestants also compete from Canada and Great Britain.

The youngsters progress from local parks through city and state competition, and then nine U.S. regional champions emerge, to compete in the World Finals which will be held this year on October 23 in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas, along with the British and Canadian entrants.

Over the years several million young people have had an opportunity to participate in this worthwhile event, which has given many of them an otherwise unavailable opportunity to travel and meet new friends.

Additionally, the spirit of competition and good sportsmanship is kindled and nurtured.

During the past two years the format of the Juniors was revised to reflect the development of the new and exciting disc sports disciplines, which should assist those youngsters seeking to advance to the World Frisbee® disc Championships in future years.

K-9 Capers A WFC Highlight

Performing today will be world famous Ashley Whippet. Performing with Ashley will be New Jersey's own Carol Conway and Bear along with Pennsylvania's Mike Smith and Isis. Both these dogs were recent winners in the Cycle Ashley Whippet Invitational Tournaments.

Almost since the very start of the World Frisbee® disc Championships, man's best friend has played an important role in the proceedings.

Starting in 1975, the legendary Ashley Whippet thrilled the assembled thousands in Pasadena's famed Rose Bowl with his speed, leaping ability and enthusiasm. Ashley was the World Champion for three years, from 1975 through 1977.

It's been apparent over the years that the sight of a dog racing down the field, leaping into the air and snaring a plastic disc will delight audiences of all ages...and this year's WFC will be enhanced by a personal appearance by Ashley, along with his owner, Alex Stein, as well as some of the dogs which competed in this year's Ashley Whippet Invitational contest, sponsored by the makers of Cycle® brand dog foods.

Over the years the canine performers have evoked many pleasant and sentimental memories during the WFC. There was Gary Smith of Maine who was in tears as he thanked his $5.00 pound hound Winkie for "bringing me to the Rose Bowl." Another standout performer was Zeke, the Wonder Dog, who was subsequently named official mascot at Michigan State.

And one of the greatest crowd pleasers was the delightful little "Austin-tatious Toke" and his equally delightful owner Zeke Linton from Texas. Toke didn't win in Pasadena but he gained thousands of new friends, only to have his life ended the following summer in a tragic accident.

However, Ashley Whippet remains the kingpin among the K-9s, although he is no longer in active competition.

Since he first burst into national prominence in August, 1974, with an unscheduled and uninvited appearance at a nationally televised baseball game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds, Ashley has been delighting people throughout the nation and has appeared at the Super Bowl, the White House and at the prestigious Westminster Dog Show.

While age has somewhat reduced his fabled speed and leaping ability, it has in no way dimmed his enthusiasm and he still evokes cheers and smiles wherever he appears.

As the father of K-9 competition, Ashley has seen the interest among dog owners grow through the years to the point where this year he was honored with a tournament in his name.

Ashley's fame was also a boon to many dogs which might otherwise have been destroyed as unwanted. Two later World Champions...Dink and Kona...both were pound hounds whose owners were looking for a "dog that could beat Ashley Whippet."

International Frisbee® disc Association

You are invited to join with over 120,000 other people of all ages who enjoy the pleasures and challenges of the Frisbee® disc. Smithsonian Frisbee® disc Festival

Several of the participants in today's Mazda World Frisbee® disc Championships will also be performing in the Sixth Annual Smithsonian Frisbee® disc Festival in Washington, D.C., on Sunday, September 5.

This event, the purest and most enjoyable celebration of disc sports held anywhere in the world, is a five-hour blending of performances by World Champion disc athletes wrapped around clinics where those same World Champions, joined by nearly 200 volunteers, put on clinics for the assembled thousands.

In 1977 former Astronaut Michael Collins, then Director of the National Air & Space Museum, was instrumental in bringing about the first Smithsonian Frisbee® disc Festival. NASM employee Bill Good, aided by other personnel and literally hundreds of volunteers from the Washington area and Philadelphia area Frisbee® disc clubs, put together a format which has proven successful...performances by the disc starts and then those same stars help other people improve their disc skills.

In all but one of the past five years the event has been held on the Capital mall, adjacent to the Museum. Each year's crowd has been larger, with more than 15,000 on hand in 1981.

All performers who appear at the Smithsonian Frisbee® disc Festival do so without pay, but invitations to the prestigious event are still eagerly sought.

Perhaps better than any other event, the Smithsonian Frisbee® disc Festival has captured the true essence of disc sports — the idea that the truly ultimate goal is to perform at the height of one's own individual abilities.
