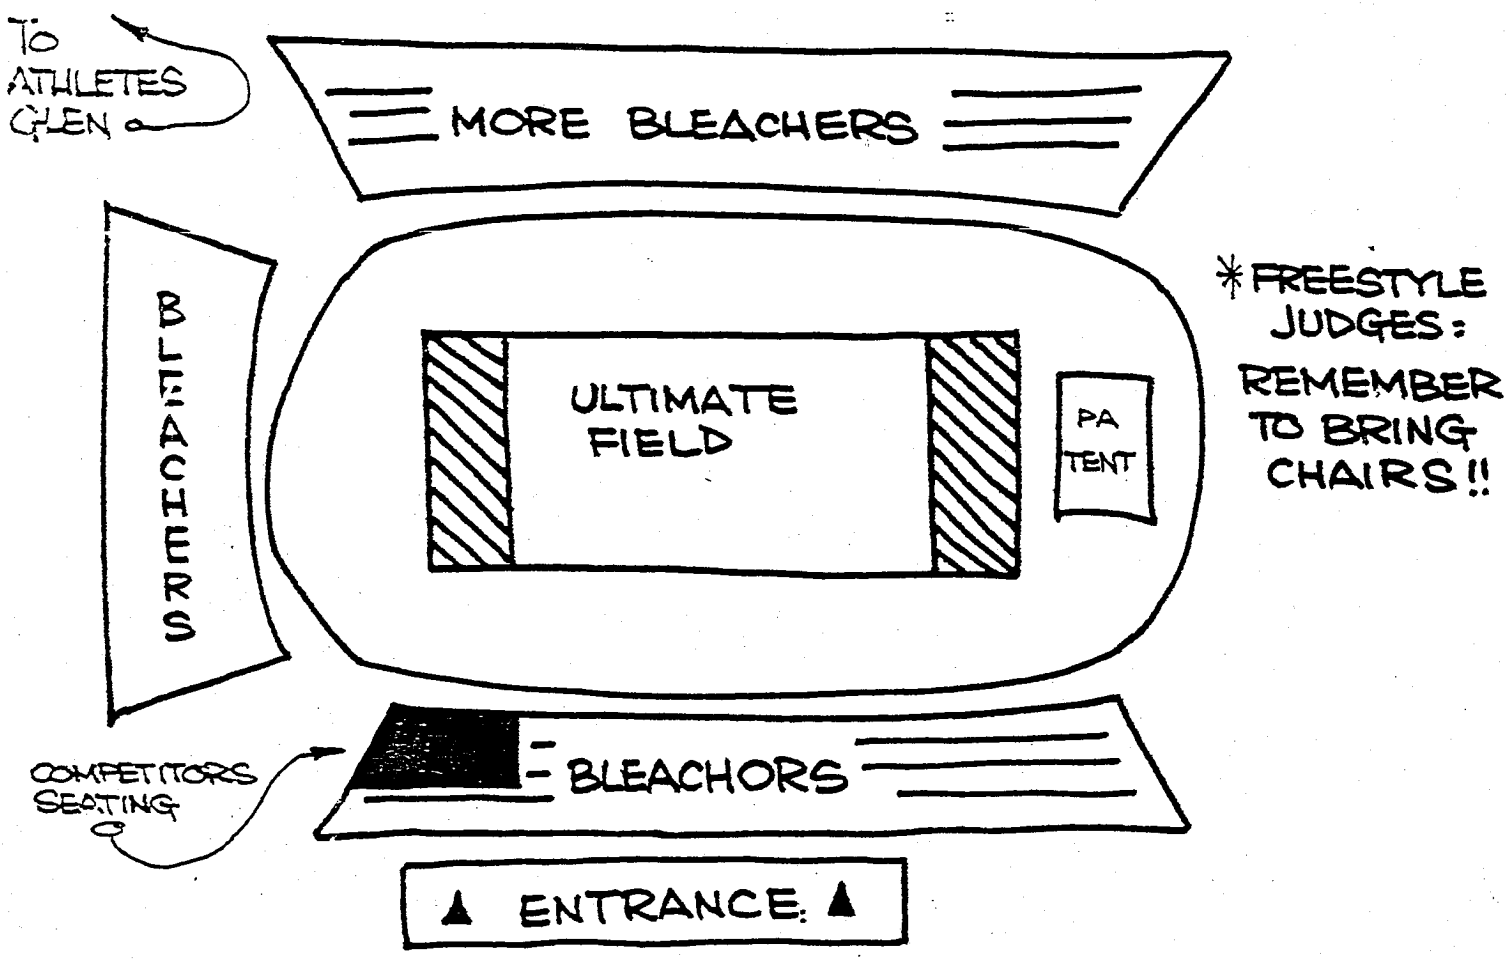
2. Be sure to wear your National Team uniform today!! Players should wear their uniforms during the day to aid the crowd in identifying all National Teams. UNIFORMS ARE ESSENTIAL FOR THE NATIONAL TEAM LINE-UP AND INTRODUCTION IN THE STADIUM AT 1:45. If you are competing and want to wear other clothes, bring them to the field and change before your event.

3. Competitors seating in the Stadium will be alphabetical, by country. Our seating area is on the LEFT side of the stands as you enter the stadium from the main gates. Look for your country listed with seating signs. A field drawing is listed in today's WFC Review.

4. After the Discathon Finals, all competitors go directly to the Stadium. Freestyle judges please go first to the sound tent to pick up one folding chair.

5. Players are encouraged to join in the Public Clinic both at 11:30 am and at 4:15. See tomboda during the day for information.

6. Competing Freestylers may wear uniforms other than National Team uniforms during their performance with prior approval of Head Judge Jim Powers.



OVERVIEW: SENIORS DIVISIONS

MASTERS Tom Monroe will have a lock on this title if he just shows up for Accuracy today. It looks like Palmeri as runnerup, although Phil Johnson has an outside chance at getting 2nd overall if Palmeri should falter badly in Accuracy.

GRANDMASTERS Ron Widel has a one-point, one-place lead over Johnny Roberts going into accuracy. However, Ron has a 6-shot lead in accuracy; so things look pretty rosy for the man from the Monterey area of No. California.

SENIOR GRANDMASTERS This is sooooo tight that a bulls-eye accuracy playoff to determine the overall title seems inevitable. Jack Roddick has a one point lead going into the final event, but Ed Headrick has a 5-shot lead in that specific event - Accuracy. The overall is up in the air.

OVERVIEW: WOMEN'S DIVISION

Barring a total collapse, Judy Horowitz will repeat as the overall champ. Joann Loftus has given her the best run for the top spot.

OVERVIEW: OPEN DIVISION

In nine WFC's it has never come down to the final day to determine the overall Open champion. Until today. Recovering from a near disastrous SCF event, Scott is again in the driver's seat. In four finals or semis, he needs, it seems, just one second place finish. Jens Velasquez needs victories in freestyle and discathon and a Zimmerman collapse to win.

From our look at the stats, here's what we see:

Zimmerman Has a minimum of 285 total points,could get a maximum of 308.
Jens' range is 269.5 to 287.5.
Neal Adams is from 251 to 263.
Tom Krajna is from 253 to 265.
Erwin is 233 to 251, and Jay Beukelman is 203 to 220. These are unofficial, but they did come from albee.

ORDER FOR FREESTYLE IN THE STADIUM (RUT BOWL)

The Women will precede the Open as in years past. These will be 5-minute routines for both divisions. Get your tapes to Ron Kaufman as early as possible once we're in the stadium.

DAILY DONUTS (FINAL 1982 EDITION)

PASSION PUDDLE REVISITED Earlier in the week, Hartmut Wahrmann, a 4-time competitor from West Germany, grinned and bared it when his disc went into the pond on hole 3 on the temporary course. It was a stroke penalty. What could he do? It was too late to save the stroke but not too late to salvage the Midnight Flyer.

With the disc a good 25 feet from shore, Hartmutt dashed towards the spot where it had entered the deep. Dan Doyle, the official on the hole, asked Hartmut, "Are you going after it?" "Yes" was the reply. "Are you going to take off your shoes and socks?" "Yes" again.

Hartmut, after discarding his footwear, did not stop there. He soon peeled down to only his bikini underwear, prepared to pursue his disc. Doyle, somewhat aghast, wondered, "You're going in in only your underwear?" "No, no, no!" Hartmut exclaimed.

Off came his underwear, and in he plunged into the muck. A female foursome on the 4th tee took this in, and when Hartmut - disc in hand - emerged from the pond, the ladies covered their eyes - with splayed fingers. Hartmut, gentleman that he was, used the recovered disc as a frontal shield, kind of a 20th century fig leaf. He then dressed and continued play.

Although this is a revealing story, it was not revealed what the diving judges gave him as a score nor what the women gave him for "artistic impression".

RESULTS OF THURSDAY'S TRIVIA CONTEST In an extremely close finish, Mike Hughes nipped Eric Wootten and Darrell Lynn for the win and the oddity disc. Thanks also to Danny McInnis and Mark Powers for entering. Mark, by the way, totally stunned us by submitting his answers at 10:33 AM - the earliest ever in WFC history. Does this mean next year we will be receiving entries before the end of breakfast?

1. This year it took us all the way to Thursday to start screwing up our questions and answers. Number 1 was truly ambiguous. We were looking for the closest finish by an international player to a world title. ("So-called foreigner" some people took to mean Ken Westerfield, an American who has always competed for Canada. All we meant was "international", a word we failed to come up with earlier in the week.)

We had in mind Anders Svensson's 3rd place Open Distance finish in '78, Anders, of course, from Sweden. However, Ken Westerfield is also appropriate, with his 2nd in the '75 overall and 2nd in '79 Golf. But two so-called "foreigners" have won world titles. In the Women's Division Tita Ugalde, who has duel U.S. and Mexico citizenship, won SCF in '79 and Gail McColl of Canada took SCF in '78. Today will offer the best chance yet - in Distance and SCF - for an international Open victor.

2. The predominantly left-handed players here (think we got them all) are: Stork, Steve Hubbard, Tim Mackey, Paul Brenner, Greg and Sue Beukelman, Joann Loftus, Hal Kurz, Sean Sheldon, Alan Beaver, Haruyo Hikino, Charles Reynier. For your information, Jack Roddick has actually won world titles in the seniors' division with either hand.

3. More than 3 players have won world titles left-handed or with counter-clockwisw spin (freestyle and upside-down throws excluded). Victor Malafronte won the '74 overall (a Master's test, basically, in the finals) and '78 SCF Open Division with a sidearm; Dan Roddick won the '75 Accuracy with a left-handed backhand; Peter Bloeme won the '76 Accuracy with mostly sidearms; Jack Roddick won the '76 MTA and '77 TRC Seniors lefty; John Greensage was the Open SCF in '80; and Paul Brenner, a natural lefty, shared in the Open DDC title last year.

4. The worst finishes, combining MTA and TRC rankings, which will guarantee you moving up from the cut from 10 to 5 in SCF, total 7, not 10. A total of 8 doesn't do it. For example:

	MTA	TRC	TOTAL
BOB	1st	6th	7
BEN	2nd	5th	7
BERT	3rd	4th	7
B.J.	4th	3rd	7
BART	5th	1st	6
JIM	6th	2nd	8

Jim does not make it.

And consider this:

MTA	TRC	TOTAL
1st	5th	6
2nd	4th	6
3rd	3rd	6
4th	2nd	6
5th	1st	6

Best possible results

A total of 6 guarantees you going on. But, let's say you got a 6th in MTA. And a total of 7. That means the above chart could not have taken place

Think about it. A total of 7 is the magic number for the worst total which gets you to the round of 5. Special thanks to Billy Bloom for the question and the detailed answer.

5. The oldest Open competitor at WFC '82 is Ken Westerfield, who chose to bypass the Masters Division. The oldest U.S. Open player is Stork. The youngest Open and yougest U.S. Open player are one and the same: Jack Cooksey, who is three months younger than Tobbe Svensson. Ken is 35, Stork 34, and Jack 15.

6. Re Awful Artie, you judge the routine on all 3 players. Awful does get the same amount of points as Whirling Wally and Flashy Fred. But since Awful passed out after 15 seconds after doing only one move, the overall score of the threesome is significantly reduced by losing their third member. Awful was in partly; so you can't take off a full one-third. Maybe a fourth. But the routine does have worth.

What was fun was Eric Wootten was arguing the worth of his explanation on his entry, freestyle partner Tom Krajna had a hand in making up the question, and other freestyle partner, Steve Hubbard, who has an injured ankle, is, of course, Awful Artie. (Don't worry - Steve really got a kick out of his new nickname. The big question is: Who is Eric - Flashy or Whirling?)

7. Ashley Whippet, born at 3:04 PM on October 4, 1971, is ten years old. He has had about 80 son and daughters, 12 granddogs, and he weighs 25 pounds.

IRISH EYES ARE SMILING "We would like to thank everyone associated with WFC '82 for making our first visit here a very memorable one and for their marvelous hospitality. To anyone coming to Ireland, be sure to look us up. Here are our phone numbers: Brendan 01-852087; Trisha 01-888163."

LOST A single tube sock, white with green stripes, red toe stitching. Contact John Schiller (Room 207). John says,"I am still accepting guesses for the fastback found on the lower field." It's a nice one.

RIDE NEEDED To Philadelphia to catch a flight on Sunday afternoon. Brendan and Trish, our Irish competitors, would appreciate a ride from anyone going that way. See them in Room 333 Metzger.

OUTVANNING VAN Jim Herrick, following Van Miller's lead, rode home from the New Brunswick Pizza Parlor while inside Palmeri's cartop carrier - and survived. Good thing no one told him to go horizontal.

GOING HORIZONTAL The Mid-Atlantic Men's Ultimate All-Stars defeated their Northeast conterparts, 27-23. Many spectators watched the game.

Today there will be a coed allstar Ultimate demonstration in the Rut Bowl from 2:00 to 2:45 PM. At 4:30 on the Busch Athletic Fields the Women's Ultimate All-star game will take place.

MINI GOLF RESULTS Mini golf was held Wednesday night before and during the fly market. While they were all inside worshipping their plastic lids, pros, and fastbacks, etc., some serious mini golf was going down outside.

A 9 hole course (all 3's) set around the Busch Campus Center was the site, and for the most part, the participants enjoyed the course's layout.

"The Miniac" Hosfeld, playing in the first threesome, shot a confident 3 under par using his hooked thumber. Ken Bache, using a low overhand, powered up to many holes for birdies and tied the 3 under mark, showing Gregg that there's more than one serious mini golfer around.

The playoff started just past dusk. Both Ken and Gregg took 2's on hole #3, but Gregg also birdied the next two holes. Ken had some putting trouble on the long hole #6, taking a 4 putt. Ken ended up even par for the round for a total of -3. Gregg, adding a -4 in the playoff, finished with a -7 total for 18 holes and the win. Terry Thiele got 3rd place with a par 27 in the prelims.

OVERALL MINI OUTLOOK After 5 events in the Mini World Frisbee disc Championships, Gregg Hosfeld is the leading overall contender with two 1sts, two 2nds, and in the top 3 in MTA, which will be played off Saturday.

It looks like a battle for 2nd place between Bill Burns and Ken Bache. Ken has a 2nd, 3rd, two 4ths, and a 7th, good for a total of 133 overall points. Burns, the mini "Around 9" champ, is close behind with 117 points.

WORLD PUTTING CHAMPIONSHIPS Recently, we called the final foursome as having included Mike Sullivan. While Mike did indeed make a splendid two-finger, upside-down shot from about 20 yards while explaining to Frank Headrick that the disc wasn't good for much - no refunds for guys who make shots like that - Mike was not in the final 4. It was Crazy John Brooks who was also in it with Burns, Tobbe, and Bruce P. Sorry, John.

MINI MONEY NOT SO MINI At last count, Gregg Hosfeld has acquired 137 minis this week, of which 125 are new to his collection. For them he has dug into his pocket for $216.50 cash. In addition, he has traded 3 mini Pole Holes in exchange for the small plastic. Not exactly small change.

SPECIAL GREETINGS John Greensage wishes to say "Hi!" to everyone and hopes that next year his work schedule will allow him to attend the WFC. John has been to 2 Worlds and as a rookie took Open SCF in 1980.

Jim Olsen Jr. sent his dad a postcard congratulating him on his win at the La Mirada Open. He also wishes the "Best of Skill to all the competitors in this year's 'Rose Bowl'" and hopes "it is as fun as World Championships in the past."

Dennis Loftus informs us that last year's Open Golf winner, Craig Hunter, will be signing autographs and kissing babies today at the Discathon course. That's apropos. That's what people do when they are running for something.

FLAPJACK GUTS WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS "Uncle Mikey" (Mike Waskowiak) and Jim Powers made good on their prediction early in the week, winning the world flap title. Tom Monroe (Frisbee disc South) and Pryor Hendrix dropped the final game, 15-9. The victory was particularly sweet for Mike and Jim, who were runnersup in flap at the 1981 WFC. The tournament ended at 1:45 PM. Stork and Tom Boda observed. (So that's how they get ready for the big day).

UP AND COMERS Roger Magnusson of Sweden, age 16, set a world distance record for Juniors with a toss of 140.45 meters at the Swedish Qualifying Tournament in Orebro, Sweden. Costs prevented him from attending this WFC. But we shall see him in the future. According to friends of Ake Vinberg, Roger used a strong breeze to its fullest just before a tournament in Gothenburg in June, cranking a 215 meter - yes, 215 - throw. Not with a Skyro either. Ake's in room 323 if you want confirmation. Amazing!!!

FOREIGN INTRIGUE Today two world titles in the Open Division could be taken outside of the United States. If so, this would be the first time ever in the Open. It's exciting to think about what it could mean to disc play the world over.

Thomas Pelkowski of West Germany will try to outgun 4 Americans in Distance. In Self-Caught Flight, the odds are even better as 4 of the 6 finalists come from Europe and Japan. The Japanese include Atsuhiko Kawasaki and Akiro Ito. The Europeans are Manfred Godrich of Austria and Brendan Nolan of Ireland.

No matter who wins, and no matter which country, we wish everyone the best.
