LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

This was the biggest most successful season for disc golf in the Northeast region. Recapping some of the highlights, I would first like to congratulate all the tournament directors and helpers who made it all possible.

Delaware's Breeze and Treeze tournament was the biggest yet. Almost one hundred players turned out from all over the country and Canada. Octad had the best weather for a Memorial day weekend than anyone can remember. Fifty players competed in the many events offered.

Two courses offered more golf for everyone: Buzzy's Creek in West Milford, New Jersey, and Killens Pond state park in Felton, Delaware. The April 6 PDGA at Buzzy's Creek drew almost fifty competitors and Killens drew sixty players.

French Creek state park is proving to be a favorite course for many. Golfers come from all over to play a course that is out in the sticks. It is also rumored that a second course will be built at the park. What an awesome thought to play 36 poleholes in one place! Go dead dogs.

Akron now has 9 Mach III poleholes with another nine planned in the near future. Akron is a very picturesque park, with a pond and fountains, making this park worth going to.

Dunellen's benefit tournament on August 24 raised several hundred dollars for the recreation department. A nine hole temporary course was set up in lieu of the World Championships for golfers who could not attend. There were 3 rounds of golf, putting contests, and a freestyle demo performed by Shannon Winn and Rick Sader. There was more media coverage than any other tournament, including the worlds, than I know of. Most of the businesses contributed money and other items to make this tournament very successful. Most important, everyone had a great time. Also, Dunellen is trying to generate interest in putting a permanent course in their area, located in Piscataway, New Jersey (10 minutes from Rutgers).

Canby park Supertour was the biggest tornament ever in this region. Over six thousand dollars in money and prizes were given away. With a drenching rain early Saturday morning scaring most golfers from showing up, a field of fifty-three pro and advanced golfers showed up not sorry for the low turn out. Players package consisted of a Andy McMillion logo t-shirt, disc and weighted mini. The tournament was a success thanks to the sponsorship of Rick McCafferty, Pietro's Pizza and many others. Delaware outdone themselves this time - thank you Andy.

Rick and Linda Ross's 6th annual Columbus Day tournament at Akron turned out to be much fun. Everyone enjoyed the festivities as about 30 couples played mixed doubles, then one open round of golf, followed by a round of mini golf at their famous home mini course. Ending the day with a putting contest, the French Creek Dead Dogs dominated the winning honors.

On a more serious note, the TSFC is looking for a new vice-president and secretary. It is hoped that the positions will be filled perhaps by someone from Maryland since their organizayion is seriously discussing joining the club. It would only enhance the sport in this area and help make it bigger.

The TSFC needs a few more serious people to help with the newsletter, the growth of which is making it difficult for just the few of us to put together. If interested, please call either Frank or me.

A flight of thanks
Rich Hughes #3127

TO THE EDITOR

In regards to how the advanced class is treated in the Tri-State area: it is the pits. TD's need to give the advanced class the same respect that is given to the pros and masters class. The problem is because the word amateur when used somehow inplies we are second class golfers. We are the next group of people to turn pro, so start giving us the same respect you give each other.

If a tournament had rous masters in it, they would be grouped together after the first round so they could play head to head, even though their scores may not be grouped together. Yet at tournaments I have attended, four advanced players couldn't be grouped together for some unknown reason. Let us play against each other so that we can get better and hopefully turn pro one day. If this sport is going to grow, it needs amateurs, without us, its not going to get bigger.

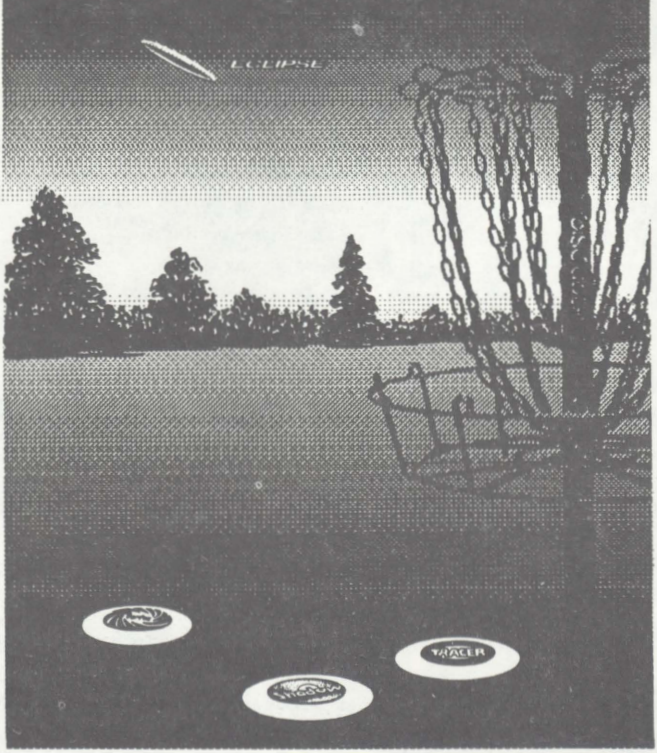
THE HOTTEST FOURSOME OFF THE TEE... AND UNDER THE PIN !!!



Discraft's four hot drivers... The Eclipse, Vortex, Tracer and Shadow are the new leaders on the course. Now you can throw those precision flights you've dreamed of with the finest discs money can buy.

You'll want all four drivers in your bag, but especially our latest, the hot new Shadow. Here's what some top golfers are saying about it...

"I can't be without a Shadow in my bag because it's the longest flying most predictable disc that I have and I have them all." --- Steve Wisecup, 1989 P.D.G.A. World Disc Golf Champion

"When you first came out with the Shadow it became a natural part of my game, and now it's become my favorite disc of all time..." ---John Ahart, 1988 P.D.G.A. World Disc Golf Champion

"It's my main driver. If I'm not throwing a Shadow I'm throwing an Eclipse for a roller shot."
---Slate Paul, Director of the 1991 P.D.G.A. World Disc Golf Championships

'Steady Ed 001' Announces
"The Return Of The GUMBPUTT™"

By player demand, Innova Champion Discs and Disc Golf Discs LTD are pleased to announce the return of the Gumbputt™ with design improvements by Dave Dunnipace and the original material by 'Steady' Ed. This Putter™ is still the best available in the world, plus it is now a great approach disc! Fifty foot putts are now a reality. The exotic material hasn't changed and many Gumbputts™ have been in continuous use for the past six years.

Note: Due to the high cost of material and the slow running time, the selling price is a little higher than discs made of regular plastic, however they are well worth the investment (terms available upon request).

Don't forget your Gumbputt™ can give you years of service and is the only disc that will erase throws from your scorecard!

Pay now/Fly later. Comes w/patented carrying case (Ziploc Bag)

Suggested Retail $20.00 (includes shipping/handling)

THE LIGHTNING DISC SQUADRON

All Lightning Discs are PDGA Approved for Competition and Guaranteed Unbreakable.

- RUBBER PUTTER
A HI-FLEX version of the Texan. Soft material is easy to grip even in the rain. Very wind resistant and durable. Floats in water.
Wt. Range 171-177 grams.

- F-18 HORNET
A 22.1 cm power hook-shot. Very predictable and over-stable, even in lower weight ranges. Rolls in a straight line - Great into a head-wind.
Wt. Range 163-165 grams.

- SR-71 BLACKBIRD
A new overstable driver. Penetrates a head wind like no other disc. Rolls in a straight line. A big "Hanlon-Hyser" (this disc WILL hook)
Wt. Range 169-181 grams

- SPITFIRE
Number one seller in the Lightning Line. Fast and overstable, this may be the best distance disc on the market. Upper weights will hook into a head wind, lighter weights fly straight and float in water.
Wt. Range 168-185 grams.

- B-17 FLYING FORTRESS
THE long distance bomber (9 1/4" diameter). A big disc for big arms; power throwers will like this one. Master of the "Double Helix." This disc will turn an "S" in flight. Lower weight floats in water, and it rolls forever.
Wt. Range 178-185 grams.

- F-14 TOMCAT
The latest straight line flyer. Great for a predictable turn-over, it holds a slice through 90% of its flight path. A nice backhand roller, This disc will serve right-handers on left handed holes (and vice versa).
Wt. Range 165-181 grams.

- F-4 CORSAIR
A good driver popular for its versatility. It's stable in a power drive and will hold its line to low air speeds. Great for long distance and approach shots.
Wt. Range 169-180 grams.

- F-15 EAGLE
Best disc on the market for beating a head wind. Low profile, massive rim, extremely overstable. A must for the power hook shot. Very durable construction, and it floats in water.
Wt. Range 170-178 grams.

- X-15
A low profile/high speed driver similar to the BEARCAT, but not as much lift. This disc is great for the "tunnel shot" and low line drives. A favorite for accuracy in gusting cross winds.
Wt. range 146-177 grams.

- F-8 BEARCAT
A low profile wind fighter. This disc is fast and slightly over stable. A heavy disc will turn left for right-handers, a middle weight disc will fly straight with a long glide.
Wt. Range 146-178 grams.

- AT-6 TEXAN
Named after the legendary "Advanced Trainer" of WWII. This disc has a tall profile and lower air speed necessary for approach shots and putting. Very wind resistant, floats in water, and is available in HI-FLEX material for sure putts.
Wt. Range 170-177 grams.

THE HOTFOOT OPEN

CAPE HENLOPEN STATE PARK

AUGUST 10, 1991

It was cool for early August and the sand not so hot as usual for this time of year. The participants all enjoyed the day, especially the locals who got to enjoy the Cape as an 18 hole course for the first time.

Dave Wonderland easily won the advanced class with a 106, while Scott Pethel took the amateur division with a 119, and CJ Bradshaw won the women's, dominating her division.

For any who wishes to experience 18 holes at Henlopen, an object back 9 has beed added as well as deck tees on the front nine instead of deep sand, so spend a day in the dunes for disc golf.

THE HOUND DOG HOWLER

KILLENS POND STATE PARK

AUGUST 11, 1991

Barely one year old, Killens 18 hole course is considered Delaware's best yet. The course winds through pines, bushes and other hard woods. Every hole is different, utilizing many variations of shots. The park keeps the course well cut and manicured.

It was a warm sunny day with light breezes. The tournament drew 59 contestants from a 6 state area. Competition was tight, scores were close in all divisions. First round mens pro, Barry Neff lead with a 51 closely followed by Tim Kady and Joe Mela with a 52. The other 16 pros were within 8 strokes of the lead. Joe took over with a 3 stroke lead in the second round shattering the course record with a 46. Joe held on in the final nine holes to take first with Tim coming within a stroke to take second.

The competition was heavy in the masters group. Norm Eckstein lead with only one stroke lead over Tom Edwards and Ernie Stuermer after two rounds. The front final nine worried Norm after Ernie's ace on hole #9. The group went on to tee off on hole #18, realizing they drove off on the wrong hole, gave each other a practice throw on hole #1. Norm held the lead and won by only 2 strokes over Tom and Ernie.

The lead changed many times as 12 advanced players finished with Zuke winning by one stroke over Bruce Mitchell.

The 19 amateur mens group was to close to call. After one round of play four were tied at 62, three at 63, and the others close by. Mark Lester won by a stroke over John Burt, both shot a great second round score of 57.

In the womens amateur division, C.J.Bradshaw held her one stroke lead into the second round over Karen Schever. Both shot better rounds than the woman pro.

The best group of all was the juniors. I was honored to keep score and officiate the three juniors on their second round. I must state that the juniors shot more professionally than most pros I've shot with. They were careful about foot faults and continuously complemented each others shots and putts. All three juniors shot clear of the non-poisonous sumac tree patch 20 feet high on hole #8. The best of the pros got caught in them. Jason Hughes and Ian Goldstein tied on the first round with an 81, Jeremy Locke was close at hand with an 83. Second round Jason and Ian tied again with 77 and Jeremy with a 78. Jason won the sudden death play on hole #1 making his putt for a three.

I enjoyed running this tournament, I feel it was my personal best yet. A large gallery followed the pro group on their final nine and everyone stayed and cheered at the awards ceremony. This tournament will be well remembered.

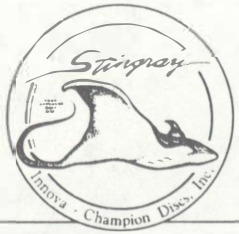
INNOVA™

CHAMPION DISCS, INC.

THE CHOICE OF CHAMPIONS for DISC GOLF

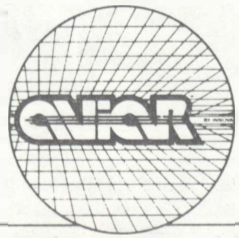
Weight in grams is marked on each disc



STINGRAY. The most popular driver of all time, the Stingray lets you throw farther than you thought possible. It's perfect for rollers, too —mile after mile.
legal to 180 grams

SHARK. The best all around disc available today is Innova's Shark. The Shark gives you pinpoint accuracy on straight or curving shots. A must for beginners.
legal to 180 grams

COBRA. Attack the course with the Innova Cobra. Superlong flights like a Stingray, plus a little added stability. And the Cobra's beaded rim gives you extra durability.
legal to 180 grams

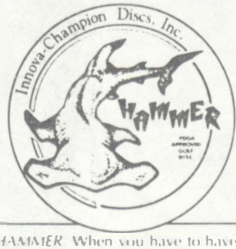


AVIAR. If you need accuracy, the Aviar hits the spot. Super stable with a wide lip for great throwing control. Perfect for approach shots and shorter drives.
legal to 175 grams

PUTTER. Stick it to the chains with the Innova Putter. The Aviar design makes it stable in the wind — soft Putter plastic makes it stay in the basket.
legal to 175 grams

XD. Depend on the XD for long approaches and medium length drives. It's a true, predictable flyer you can count on for those tough touch shots.
legal to 175 grams

ROC. The Roc lets you throw into any wind with confidence. It's a legendary flyer that cuts right through the wind and stays on course. A favorite of pro drivers.
legal to 180 grams



HAMMER. When you have to have a straight flight, go straight for the Hammer. The super durable Hammer holds the line and is tougher than any tree on the course.
legal to 180 grams

PHENIX. This hefty high flyer holds the World's Distance record at over 200 yards. The Phenix is fast and tough and flies like no other disc — if you can handle it.
legal to 180 grams

Note: Because of their extra weight, Golf discs are not recommended for catching games. The Aviar™ Sport Model Stingray™ and Apple™ are perfect for disc games.

DULLELEN BENEFIT

AUGUST 30, 1991

A group of adventurous amateurs learned from the best Saturday at Columbia Park, where Dunnellen hosted its first ever Disc Golf Tournament.

The tournament, sponsored by the Recreation Department and Forbes Newspapers, turned Columbia Park over to members of the Professional Disc Golf Association, who transformed the open field and surrounding woods into a nine hole disc (known in layman's terms as frisbees) golf course.

ANDY MCMILLION

CANBY COUNTY PARK

SEPTEMBER 14/15, 1991

Back in the fall of 1990, Rick McCafferty asked us to run a supertour in Delaware. From this request blossomed the Delaware Disc Golfers' biggest effort ever in setting up a tournament. Our club started meetings in December 1990 and was still meeting the day before the tournament. The end result was the DDG's best tournament ever. This included an awesome 8493 foot, 27 hole temporary course, tournament sponsorship totaling $3250, food service at the course, big players package and lots of fun prizes and cash for best rounds, closest to the hole and ace pot.

Saturday morning before sunrise it was raining hard. This may have scared away some potential players or perhaps it was the relatively high entry fee for our region that caused the small turnout of 53 players. Those 53 players quickly realized they were in the Land of Oz.

At sunrise the rain stopped and the course was set up. The weather treated us perfectly. It was cloudy most of the day at a comfortable 70 degrees with little wind. This allowed everyone to enjoy the course to its fullest. The front nine and the back nine were a modest 2600 feet each with a host of tricky holes that wound down through a valley with widely spaced mature trees. The back nine opened up into a 3290 foot monster with a creek and a stream that came into play on almost every hole. Few golfers managed this section without penalty strokes of one sort or another.

After the first round, which took 4 hours to play, Master Red Whittington had the hot round of 71. This would prove to be the best 27 hole score for the weekend. Art Peters was leading the pros with a 74. Ed Milligan had the best advanced score of 81. Sandy Steger was leading Susanne Giendl by five strokes by shooting a hot 90. All these people won money or prizes for best first round.

In the second round, the course was dryer and some of the golfers got more comfortable with the course. Craig Gangloff was the second round star tying Red's 71 to position himself as the pro leader after the first day of play. We must have accidentally duplicated Red's backyard course because he shot a 73 in the second round putting him in a 11 stroke lead for the masters. It should be noted he was 4 strokes ahead of the pros. This would not change throughtout the weekend. In the women's pro Sandy had the trouble round that Susanne had in the first. Susanne reciprocated with an 89 giving her a confortable lead which she never gave up for the rest of the tournament. Ed Milligan also put himself in the winning position on the first day and it proved out that nobody could catch him Sunday.

Sunday morning was beautiful. The sun was out with highs of about 80 and the course was looking perfect.

At this point I'd like to make a statement: On the day of a tournament in Delaware it will not rain regardless of what the weatherman says. It never rains on a tournament in Delaware, just like presidents never lie. And if you do get wet we'll just tell you you're not.

Craig came out of the gate strong, shooting a 72, giving him a 5 stroke lead over Steve Valencia who had been quietly doing some strong shooting himself. Red continued to dominate the masters by shooting another superhot 73. He was still leading the tournament overall.

The final 18 involved a cut to about half the field. We used the front and back parts of the course which were 2600 feet each. The entire tournament looked in the bag for each class leader. This was true for the women's pro, masters, and advanced, but what unfolded in the open pro was what disc folf legends are made of.

In the first nine of the final 18, Steve gained two strokes. Craig was having a little trouble but playing smart. Dan Ginnelly and Mike Moser were tearing up the place with a 22 and a 23 but they were pretty much battling each other.

When Steve entered the back nine he turned the heat way up birdying 20 and 21 bringing him within 1 stroke. Craig was stuck in a streak of threes he couldn't break. They both parred the next two holes but when Steve birdied the 24th hole and Craig missed a short putt, there was blood in the water. Steve Valencia finished out the round with all birds. An amazing display of disc golf power and accuracy. Craig ended up a humble 2nd with Dan Ginnelly taking third over Mike Moser.

Congratulations go to Red Whittington for shooting the best golf of the whole tournament. He proved to Delaware that he is the World Masters Champion and we are proud to have him in our region.

The tournament payout was bigger than anything we ever had for all divisions even though we still paid 1/3 and the field was as small as it was. I'm sure Ed Milligan didn't mind lugging home a Mach III polehole for first place advanced along with all of his other goodies. We should all welcome Ed into the pro division (we never teased him about sandbagging because we were afraid he was going to turn pro).

The Andy McMillions experiment was a near perfect success. Next year, if we get another shot at a region 1 supertour, we will have to hold it in the summer because if we did have a bigger field, we would have run out of daylight. Other than that everything went perfect. We would like to thank Andy McMillion, Pietro's Pizza, Delaware Disc Golfers, and all of our other sponsors, the TDs and helpers, and all the golfers that donated their poleholes. We hope they will all be with us next year. And thanks to all the golfers that enjoyed our tournament.

Craig Gangloff said it best: "The only losers in this tournament were the people who thought about coming and didn't!"

COLUMBUS DAY ANNIVERSARY

ROLAND PARK

OCTOBER 12, 1991

The threat of rain had me holding my breath most of the day, but there was no downpour until after the awards ceremony. For those who couldn't stay until the awards, please note the results included. I want to thank everyone who helped out before, during and after the tournament. It was the first time we tried to get four event in on one day. We finished ahead of schedule.

Mixed best disc started at 9:00 a.m. Dave and Dez won with a 9 under. I am waiting for that wedding invitation. Linda and I had our best round ever at 7 under. We are still hopefuls at this event.

Singles got started about 11:30. This event was cut to one round to allow time for all events. I learned that I must resolve ties before we travel to the mini-course for the next round. Judy and Susanne tied for first place and Linda and Joelle tied for third. Dale Crawford won ... again!!! and a three way tie for second Bob, Tom and Merrill who played off in that order.

Mini got off to a kaotic start as players had to pick their own foursome, find out the rules and play. It went well though, once it got moving and there was plenty of time to enjoy the round before dark. There was only one under par score, Tom Painter. Linda won Womens with a score of 70.

I started the men putting right away. I should have let the women putt first. I realized that this event would take some time, but I was sure we would finish up before 9:00 p.m. We were done at 8:30 and the awards presented immediately. There was only one putting score under 30, Tom Painter with 29. Renate won the Womens putting by two strokes better than her competition.

There were 5 juniors, but only Karl plahed each evetn. Karl played mixed best with Amy, our first teenage mixed best ever. Alicia and Amber played mixed with their fathers, Ray and Skeeter. This was a vety nice touch.

I think the new format was a success and that we should keep it next year. The adjustment to 1 12 hours schedule of events was a bit difficult, but given the experience, it should be better prepared for next year. Oh, yes, I am already preparing for next year. Saturday, October 10, 1992.

Love Richhi & Linda

WHAT DO YOU WANT FROM DISC GOLF?

Do you want more courses? Parks Departments will put in more courses when they know there are lots of people who want to play them. The answer is more people.

Do you want bigger tournaments? We'll have bigger turnouts and bigger galleries only when we get more people involved. The answer is more people.

Do you want to see Disc Golf on national TV? Nobody comes to see our tournaments in person, so why would ESPN think anyone would watch them on television? We need more people.

Do you want big sponsors and big prize purses? Get a clue. Sponsors need spectators to get their money's worth from an event. All professional sports need spectators. We need more people.

What can you do?

1. Wear nice Disc Golf clothing.
2. Act appropriately on and off the course.
3. Bring 3 new people to the World's Biggest Disc Golf tournament May 9, 1992 . . . at a course near you.
